

CHICKEN EGGS

We always aim to maintain the high food safety standard.

Egg processing plants are equipped with up-to-date automated facilities. The advanced technology separates an egg into the white and the yolk with high accuracy. Then, egg products are filtered to remove small particles of the shell.

Aiming to increase marketing opportunities, we can offer tailor-made egg product recipes, as well as customized packaging, to meet specific needs of a customer.

LIQUID EGG TO SHELL EGGS BENEFITS

Food safety. The egg products are pasteurized to reduce Salmonella and other harmful bacteria.

Cost effective ingredient. Liquid egg products enable saving of labor and other material and time resources. You are free from washing, breaking and separating processes.

No product waste. Separated egg products are the best solution if you need yoke or white product only. You are not bothered with utilization of the other component, which improves the kitchen or production efficiency.

Convenience. Liquid egg products are ready to use and easy to handle. No preparatory process brings you convenience and clean manufacturing facilities.

Space effective. Egg products need less storage space then shell eggs.

Long shelf-life. Frozen liquid egg products or special LONG LIFE products can be used to get the longer shelf-life.

Product consistency. The characteristics of liquid egg products can be controlled and analyzed before purchasing.

The food safety and quality assurance management systems based on ISO 9001 and FSSC 22000 international standards are integrated at our production sites. Egg products also have the HALAL certificate.
